BUSINESS AS USUAL ON REGIONS RAIL

Work continues on Mildura rail line this summer as The Murray Darling Rail Plan continues to unfold across the Wimmera Mallee and Mildura regions.

Federal Member for Mallee, Andrew Broad says the track upgrades will allow for better freight movement out of the region.

“The work is switching our local tracks from broad gauge to standard gauge, falling in line with other rail lines used throughout Australia,”

“Our patch contributes $5.3 billion to the Australian economy, and the Murray Darling Rail Plan is creating a more efficient means of delivering products from our patch to the rest of the country,” Mr Broad said.

The $440 million project has work continuing from Cope Cope up to Mildura.
